

Nepal: Matri Griha orphanage

Underprivileged children are the weakest people in the society, especially if they're on their own. These are children at risk, often belonging to poor communities, deprived of basic health, shelter and education.

- Providing education and skill training as a personal approach to each child
- Showing ways to become self reliant and aware of their fundamental rights

A 'home' for orphaned children

Nepal Matri Griha (NMG) is a non-profit organization that has helped orphans, handicapped and under-privileged children since 2000. The 15 children who were moved from one orphanage to another several times, now have found a secure and loving environment at Matri Griha. The homely and peaceful environment has helped tremendously in the well being of the children, which also translates into significant improvement of school results.

Nepal Matri Griha means 'mother's home' and provides orphans, handicapped and under-privileged children in Kathmandu with shelter and care. Net4kids' project partner in support of these children is Nepal Matri Griha.

How to help

For Euro 19.000 the majority of the running cost for the entire orphanage (17 children) can be covered. Running cost are: i.e. housing, staff costs, food, etc.

Nepal Matri Griha objectives

- Giving individual love and care to the children
- Creating a homely and peaceful atmosphere
- Building up their personal health

About Nepal Matri Griha

Nepal Matri Griha was founded in 2000 by Ms. Shobha Rai. It started out of an emergency situation when Ms. Rai, working as a volunteer in a children's organization, filed suit against the organization for bad practices. The children were transferred to another organization but circumstances were equally bad. Both organizations were subsequently banned by the government. Ms. Rai took care of the children as a
